

2) Power Point Presentation: Mourinho goes to Juventus

The students analyzed a fake news about a sport issue. The fake news was that Mourinho, the Inter coach, would leave the club and train the Juventus team instead, after the Inter team had lost an important match against Real Madrid.

The students analyze the web site reliability by comparing the content of the news to a real interview with the trainer, published on an official sport website. They also tried to categorize the type of fake news and the different channels through which the news was spread.
