

4) Infographic: Vaccines

The students analyzed the vaccine issue. They have looked for information on the web and have found two kind of data: scientific and not-scientific positions regarding vaccines indications, advantages and risks. They have organized these two kinds of information in an info graphic that summarizes and compares the results obtained thanks to the online research. In this way they have increased their awareness and critical thinking regarding different information outputs.